

Welcome to the Summary Report

We hope that after you read this Summary Report you continue on to review the full report. We suggest that you take one break when reviewing the full report.

We thank you for taking your valuable time to review these reports. Please be aware that a group of very concerned CPAs, each with a great love for the profession and respect for their national organization, the AICPA, have invested many hundreds of hours of their valuable time to make this information available to you.

Every effort was made to have these reports reflect only the facts contained in the financial statements of the AICPA or in other written or verbal communications from the Institute, while withholding the comments and conclusions of the authors. We leave it to YOU, the readers, to reach your own conclusions.

THANK YOU!
